Silver, Petrucelli & Associates Moves Up 30 Notches on Top 300 Architecture Firms List

July 20, 2017 – Hamden, CT. Silver / Petrucelli + Associates is pleased to announce it has moved past thirty other firms in the 2017 “Top 300 Architecture Firms” ranking by Architectural Record magazine, a highly regarded industry publication. National firms were ranked by their 2016 annual revenue. This is the firm’s fifth consecutive appearance on this prestigious internationally recognized list.

“This recognition is collaboration in its truest form”, said Bill Silver, president of the firm. “From the clients that award us the projects to the building committees that work with our architects, engineers and interior designers, I cannot think of a finer example of collaboration and we are proud to share this achievement with all of them.”

After making its debut on the list five years ago (with a rank of 293), the firm has moved up steadily, thanks to a number of large projects including high schools in Berlin, Enfield and Bridgeport, elementary and middle schools in Ledyard, and the new advanced manufacturing facility at Quinebaug Valley Community College in Danielson that opened last September. Ambulance/EMS and fire stations in Newtown, Branford (LEED Silver), East Hartford (LEED Gold), and Wallingford also contributed to the firm’s growth over the last five years. The annual revenue considered for the current assessment (2016) is 9.3 million dollars, up 27.5% from 2015.
